

Disability Services at University of New Orleans

University of New Orleans (UNO) is committed to providing an environment where all students have the opportunity to equally participate in the academic experience, including students with disabilities. Students with disabilities have rights as determined by federal and state laws which require institutions to provide reasonable accommodations for the student's disability in order to afford an equal opportunity to participate in the college's programs, courses, and activities.

If you have a disability and will require accommodations while enrolled in courses at UNO, please be advised that you must submit documentation of your disability and contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS). ODS guidelines for documentation of a disability can be found at: www.ods.uno.edu or please call (504) 280-7284 or 280-6222 for more information.

You may voluntarily complete the form below, providing whatever information you think is necessary to help us to meet your disability-related needs while you are enrolled at UNO. This information can be used to facilitate the process of registering with ODS for academic accommodations.
